MAYOR PIKE'S MESSAGE

One of the best parts of being mayor is all of the great conversations I have with the people of St. George. Whether it's on the radio, via Facebook or email, or when I run into people at the grocery store or at a football game, the number one topic on your mind is roads. You want to know whether we can have better surfaces, add lights, widen bridges and roads, create bike-friendly streets, and expand our bus service.

I'm with you on those roads every day, so I get it. And I'm concerned too.

Our methods for funding roads are outdated. Improved fuel efficiency, emerging hybrid technology, and the increasing popularity of active transportation are all great things, but they mean that funding roads through the gas tax is inadequate. The Utah state legislature has recognized this, and offered counties the opportunity to raise additional funding for local roads through Proposition 1.

Proposition 1 calls for a sales tax increase of one cent per every four dollars spent on non-food items. That money will be used on local transportation and transit projects, including roads and expanded and more frequent bus service. We anticipate that between 30 and 40 percent of the monies generated will come from visitors to our area. It's good that while they are here, these friends make a modest investment in our roads.

Proposition 1 is an investment in our future and our local economy, and frankly, without it, our roads will get worse, not better. I support having Proposition 1 on the ballot, because it gives you the ability to let us know what you think. How you vote, Washington County, gives us our marching orders for the coming decades.

I'm listening.

Jon Pike
City of St. George Mayor

PROPOSITION 1: INVESTING IN LOCAL TRANSPORTATION

We are often complacent when it comes to recognizing the importance of our community's transportation system until a road on our daily commute is closed for repairs, or when the power is out at a busy intersection, or we sit idle in congested traffic during rush hour. The fact is, we all spend very little time thinking about how important it is to maintain all of the different aspects of our transportation infrastructure until something becomes an inconvenience or even more serious, a safety hazard.

St. George is a vibrant, growing city and a quality transportation system is the backbone of its economy and the lifeblood of our community.

Our transportation system affects every aspect of our lives. However, it's the maintenance of that system that determines whether that recurring impact will be positive or negative.

We recognize the impacts of aging roads, unfinished sidewalks, a lack of bike lanes, cracking asphalt trails and much more posing unnecessary safety risks to drivers, cyclists, pedestrians, and outdoor enthusiasts alike. What might seem like an inconsequential problem could one-day result in something far more tragic than a simple nuisance.

Our roads require maintenance similar to how we maintain our vehicles with occasional trips to the mechanic, or perform weekend home repairs and manage our personal health with annual check-ups with a physician.

Lately, community leaders are encountering a fork in the road. The need for funding has become visible along our roads and sidewalks as the cycle of deterioration outpaces the source of income.

In response, Washington County voters are being asked to act by investing in transportation now, rather than face the consequences later.

Proposition 1 is a local option sales tax that provides local relief at the root of our community—our transportation system. For a quarter of a cent, or one penny for every four dollars spent on non-essential purchases like food, we can fix that perpetual rough road on your way to work, or finish the sidewalk on the route to your child's school.

This small sales tax increase, allows our communities to be proactive and take care of the modest projects that help our residents to remain worry-free during their daily commutes. Projects like the reconstruction of Bloomington Drive, intersection improvements along River Road and a new connector.

The reality is, without more revenue for local governments, cities and counties will fall further behind on these community necessities delaying transportation investments and costing taxpayers more in the long run.

The costs of maintenance on roads and sidewalks increases the longer they are delayed. Like other delayed maintenance, the consequences are more severe and the cost dramatically higher. Ultimately, the price of doing nothing is much greater than the cost of investing in Prop 1.

No one is fond of routine doctor visits or the expenses of household upkeeps or taxes but a modest investment now will save us greater costs down the road.

Projects to be funded or partially funded by the local option sales tax if approved by voters:

- River Road Corridor Intersections:
  - 100 South- dual north-bound left turns
  - 700 South- widen sections of Foremaster Drive
  - Riverside Drive- dual north-bound left turns
  - 1450 South- Dual south-bound left turns
- Plantations Drive (two-lanes) in Green Valley
- Bloomington Drive Improvements
- 3000 East Road widening between 1450 South and 2450 South
- 2450 S from 3210 East to new schools
- Active Transportation Infrastructure Improvements (trails, bike lanes, sidewalks, etc...)
- Suntran Mass Transit- Route expansion and reduced wait times between stops
- Update St. George Master Transportation Plan

2016 2021

ACTION PLAN

In February, Mayor Pike delivered the State of the City address for 2016 and introduced the City's Five-Year Action Plan.

The plan outlines key initiatives and projects the City will be pursuing between 2016 and 2021 in six categories; they include: transportation, public safety, infrastructure, arts, parks and recreation, economic development and e-government.

In this fall edition of Inside St. George we give you a summary look at some of the initiatives, programs and projects taking place in 2016. We will share the remaining categories with you in upcoming editions.

MORE HAPPENING AHEAD

PUBLIC SAFETY

When seconds count, you count on those who are well trained and equipped to respond at a moment's notice. Around-the-clock protection of life and property is the primary focus of public safety in St. George. The men and women who make up the St. George police and fire departments pride themselves on delivering compassionate service with professionalism in some of life's most difficult circumstances. Besides being a clean city with beautiful vistas, St. George should be a place where you and your loved ones feel safe.

PUBLIC SAFETY

FIRE STATIONS 2017-21

As we continue to see growth in certain parts of the community it will be necessary to acquire property for new fire stations in the Little Valley, Tonaquint and Desert Canyons neighborhoods.

FIRE ENGINES 2016-18

Properly outfitting our public safety employees with safe, reliable equipment is a top priority. We plan to purchase three new fire engines and an aerial ladder engine for larger structure fires.

FIRE FIGHTING TRAINING FACILITY 2017-21

A well-trained department can be the difference between life or death for themselves and those they are trying to help. We will plan and construct a new firefighting training center complete with tower and live burning props to simulate life-like scenarios.

ONLINE CITIZEN REPORTING AND MESSAGING 2016

Internet-based reporting of minor crimes will be an added convenience for our citizens.

NW POLICE VEHICLES 2016

We will provide 35 new police cars to replace older vehicles. Newer vehicles are designed to last longer, reduce maintenance and provide greater safety.

K-9 UNIT 2016

An additional K-9 drug dog unit will help us minimize drug-related offenses. Each K-9 dog goes through an extensive eight-week training program to ensure effectiveness and proper behavior.

POLICE TRAINING 2016-21

We will review, update, and implement critical police/dispatch training to address the changing needs of our community.

URBAN SEARCH AND RESCUE 2017-18

We plan to create and train a new state urban search and rescue team. This specialized team will be used in emergency search-and-rescue situations resulting from earthquakes, storms, floods and transportation-related accidents.

INFRASTRUCTURE

Reliable, sustainable resources are essential for life in the desert. Ensuring that those resources are readily available today and tomorrow is our primary responsibility. An extensive underground and overhead infrastructure of conduits and cables keeps homes comfortable and businesses running around the clock. Constant monitoring and insightful planning efforts help us stay ahead of the demand, so the service is there when you need it.

ENERGY-SAVING STREETLIGHTS 2016-21

We will upgrade to LED streetlights that are night-sky friendly and use 75% less energy.

WASTEWATER TREATMENT PLANT UPGRADE 2017-21

Several modifications and upgrades to the Wastewater Treatment Plant over the next five years will increase the wastewater treatment plant capacity, increase efficiencies, and provide a higher level of treatment to meet more stringent requirements.

FUEL-CELL TECHNOLOGY 2017

This next-generation fuel cell will provide power to the grid while heating the Sand Hollow Aquatic Center pools with the excess heat it creates.

SAND HOLLOW REGIONAL PIPELINE CONNECTION 2018

This project will provide a 30-inch diameter connection to the Sand Hollow Regional Pipeline and provide an additional source of drinking water to the Little Valley/South Block area of the city.

GUNLOCK ARSENIC TREATMENT PLANT 2018

The new plant will remove naturally occurring arsenic from the ground water to a level acceptable for safe drinking water. The plant will increase the city's drinking water production by 9,000 acre-feet.

POWER SUBSTATIONS 2017-18

New power substations will be constructed near the Ridge Top Complex and Millcreek Industrial Park to assist business growth.

SMART METERING ROLLOUT 2017-19

This technology will allow St. George utility customers to view their water and energy usage in real time online. The system is designed to help residents better manage their water and energy usage, and allow them to make more informed decisions when it comes to settings on their thermostats and irrigation controllers. It will also assist in early detection of water leaks and high energy use.

UTILITY LINEMAN RODEO SPONSORED BY IPSA

The City of St. George Energy Services Department is hosting a Lineman Rodeo, sponsored by the Intermountain Power Superintendent Association (IPSA). The event will be held Monday October 31, 2016 at the Dixie Sunbowl.

Utilities throughout the intermountain region will be participating in this event that showcases the skills needed to be a power utility lineman. This is a chance for the competitors to hone their skills and to interact with other linemen from other utilities. There are several benefits to this beyond the chance to compete.

Many of the utilities competing have mutual aid agreements, meaning that in times of natural disasters, linemen respond to another utility's service area to help restore power to customers. The rodeo provides a way for all competitors to work on skills they may need when coming to the aid of another utility. It opens the lines of communication, making it easier to work together when disaster strikes.

This is also a time to practice safety. Events such as pole top rescue allow linemen to practice for accidents they hope will never happen.

The public is invited to attend the Lineman Rodeo to see first hand the skills needed to deliver reliable power to our communities. It's also a chance for those thinking of entering the lineman workforce to see what type of skills are required.

Salt Lake Community College (SLCC) will have a booth at the event. It will be staffed with a representative happy to answer any questions regarding the lineman apprentice program offered through SLCC. Much of the course work for employed apprentices can be done locally as trained instructors are among those linemen working in our area. SLCC also offers a lineman training course at the Sandy, Utah campus for students interested in entering the power lineman trade.

The Lineman Rodeo will be open to the public from 9:30 am – noon and 1:30 pm – 4:00 pm. Join us on October 31, 2016 and discover the skills and dedication of those that build and maintain the system that brings power to our homes and businesses.

NEW TECHNOLOGY MAKES IT EASY TO RIDE

We are excited to announce that SunTran now has GPS technology installed that will tell you where it is and when it will arrive at your stop. There are three new ways to find your next bus.

It's easy as 1, 2, or 3:

1. Text

Text "suntran (number on the stop)" to 41411. Ding! In seconds you get a text back that gives the estimated time the next bus will arrive.

2. App

Download the free App "Ride Systems" and select SunTranUtah to unlock a host of tools. Track your bus around town, see when it will arrive at your stop, find the bus stop closest to you, and mark your favorite stops. The Ride Systems App was developed by Utah college students. The company is based in Utah and serves over 300 transit systems. I love the App.

3. Online

Check your computer before you walk out the door to see where your bus is and its' expected arrival time at www.suntranutah.com

As always, a complete bus schedule is available on www.sgcity.org/suntran/ or you can plan your trip using google maps by putting in your destination and selecting the bus icon.

I've traveled around the world for over 30 years while serving in the United States Air Force and I rode public transit in faraway cities like Paris and Berlin and in cities across the United States like Washington DC and Denver. I love riding the bus. I meet new people, see new sites, and I can relax because I don't have to worry about traffic and driving. I feel like I am part of the solution that reduces pollution and congestion, and I save money.

I'm now serving as the City of St George, SunTran manager and I also ride the SunTran bus. I save money while meeting new people and I see that our drivers do a great job. Speaking of saving money, one woman reported that she had purchased a new washer and dryer with the money saved by riding the bus last year. Public transit is an efficient way to travel. Most of the bus seats are full throughout the day and sometimes standing room only during peak hours. There is room for one more person so I look forward to meeting you on the bus.

SAND HOLLOW AQUATIC CENTER CREATES THE ULTIMATE WATER PLAYGROUND

Although we live in the desert, St. George residents can still have a tropical experience. Just stop by the newly remodeled Sand Hollow Aquatic Center and prepare to be amazed. Over the past few months a major remodel has wrapped the entire complex in a vibrant jungle theme with waterfalls, palm trees and wonderful tropical animals, birds and tigers -- As visitors enter the reception area, they are greeted by a large colorful mural accompanied by a soundscape of the waterfall and monkeys. "We wanted to set the mood from the moment visitors walk into the building," said Kelly Humphreys, Aquatics Manager at Sand Hollow Aquatics Center. "Our concept was to create a unique, water experience, as well as adding many new water play attractions for adults and children alike."

Once inside the pool, swimmers see the large 12 foot high Aqua Climbing wall, 2 big parrots, sitting above the Tiki Totem Pole water curtain and a big palm rain tree with cascading water all around. A large fun-filled water snake lounges above bubbling water geysers alongside a floating turtle. In the Pelican Pond a 12 foot gator and lily pads invite any child to trek over the top, while attempting to reach the other side. A baby elephant, baby tiger, momma guerillas, pelicans and water shooters are all in place to greet the littlest water splashers. Tiki beach, a zero depth beach waterfront, is loaded for fun with the iconic froggy water slide and, rising over all of the Wild Jungle waterfront, is the giant water slide. A current channel with vortex and underwater bench seating add motion and visual interest to the playground's unique water features and environments for the whole family to enjoy.

The Aquatic Center hosts a variety of swimming programs including American Red Cross Learn to Swim classes. Other classes, which are held year-round, include Parent/tot, pre-school and age group lessons. Vigorous & strength building Water Exercise classes are scheduled each morning Monday through Saturday. Paddleboard Yoga classes are held Tuesday evenings. Open Swimming is offered every afternoon and evening.

Special Events throughout the year include, Swimming with Santa, Water Easter Egg Hunt, the Boo-nanza, Dive-in movies, high school competitive swim meets and a free swim day held to celebrate St. George Heritage Days. "We continue to add special events all the time such as the new inflatable water playground planned for Thursday Nights," remarked Humphreys. "Watch for announcements about our Sand Hollow Aquatic Center grand opening celebrations. They will be great fun and allow our community to come and enjoy all the new attractions which have been added." Call the Sand Hollow Aquatic Center at 627-4585 to arrange for a tour and free family swim pass. More information about the Sand Hollow Aquatic Center can be found at www.sgcity.org.

ST. GEORGE CREMATION GARDEN: A Place For Reverent Reflection

Throughout the country, families are choosing cremation as an alternative to traditional burial. While cremation is often chosen because it is significantly less expensive, loved-ones still want a place to visit that has a marker or headstone so they can reflect on the memory of one that has passed away.

The new St. George Cremation Garden, located at the Tonaquint Cemetery next to the Sexton's office, was created to fill that need for its citizens. It is a beautifully designed garden with perennial borders, ornamental grass collections and flowering trees. Tranquil water features and art are placed throughout. The Garden will feature different plantings that are exquisite through all four seasons.

There are many options for markers. Families may purchase a 'tree estate' where multiple family members' cremains can be placed. Couples can choose to have a shared marker and individuals can purchase a single marker. There are two columbaria in the Garden where urns are placed behind granite tablets. Benches can be purchased and placed in 'garden rooms.'

Phase One of the Garden is now complete with lots available for purchase. Phase Two will contain a pavilion and a large water feature. There are many tree plantings and garden plants that will be added as construction continues. There will be a seat wall that overlooks traditional lawn lots.

The Cremation Garden is truly a lovely place for quiet reflection on life and love. The plantings and design are soothing and reverent. Anyone interested in the Cremation Garden is invited to call the Cemetery Sexton's office at (435) 627-4728.

ST. GEORGE ART MUSEUM MEZZANINE GALLERY: THE PAINTED HILLS FIBER ARTISTS

The MEZZANINE GALLERY features the Painted Hills Fiber Artists, Fiber Artists Imagine the National Parks (twenty are depicted) The use of various types of fabric, fibers, thread and other materials result in a unique type of art that some may term as "Quilted Art". They use a wide range of techniques including various sewing methods, coloring, inking, dyeing and even hand painting to create their special brand of art. Living in the midst of the spectacular setting of the American Southwest makes these artists particularly well suited to capturing the colors, textures and feeling of southern Utah.

This group of seven art-loving quilt makers came together to enable each other's talents and elevate their art form to new levels. They chose their name to honor the sun-reflecting coral hills where they reside. It also expresses their objective to create beautiful fiber artwork. Together, the group critiques each other's work, encourages one another, and works to solve technical problems in a positive supportive manner. Essential to this process is respecting and retaining their individuality. Each member has strong unique styles and talents. Their goal is to exhibit their work and give the public the opportunity to enjoy this very unusual art form.

The group (Karen Andrus, Janey Argyle, Charlotte Purcell Gary, Sue Gilgen, Rosemary Hargrove, Cathie Purdy, and Carroll Lee Stolz) presents their Art Conversation on December 15th at 7pm.

The MAIN GALLERY exhibit, The Nation's Most Spectacular National Parks the last juried show features 44 pieces of art by 40 artists. The artists hail from 15 states spread across the entire country. Ten different media are represented in the artwork: oil, pastel, fiber, acrylic, print, topographic map, gourd, art book, watercolor, and photography. A wide variety of national parks, monuments, and national park service sites are depicted; 24 in all.

An Art Conversation with multiple artists to accompany this exhibit will take place on October 20th at 7pm. Donna Poulton, the juror of the three exhibits will present an Art conversation on November 17th, also at 7pm.

Aesthetically, the styles range from those harking back to the late nineteenth century grand romantic style to near non-representational and a whole range in between. As always the Family Discovery and Adult Study Centers are available. Later evening hours occur on 3rd Thursdays and 1st Mondays with many events and programs for you to come and experience. Through our offerings, you may visit so much of the beauty of our nation. Don't miss our final tribute to the American landscape!

1900, Oil on Board, By: George Martin Ottinger

The LEGACY GALLERY exhibit, Early Art of the National Parks, includes a dozen beautifully rendered historic paintings and two prints that range in date from 1888 to 1937. Depicted are five national parks: Zion, Grand Canyon, Yosemite, Yellowstone, and Glacier. From the St. George Art Museum's permanent collection, two of our early oils by George Ottinger and Ann Muller add a view of Yosemite (1907) and perhaps one of the most fanciful views of Zion (c.1900). Many of the paintings in the show have never been seen here before, and the largest piece hasn't been seen in public for 80 years. California collector, Scott Alexander, has generously loaned the Museum a number of pieces for this exhibit. Particularly important is Alexander's collection of the works of John Fery (1859-1934), a painter whose works have not been seen here since the 2008 exhibit on Zion National Park's 100th birthday of becoming a National Monument.

The most prolific artist of Glacier National Park, John Fery painted over three hundred landscapes featuring the scenic backcountry, landmarks, and wildlife of Glacier. Sought out by Louis Hill, President of the Great Northern Railway, for his sweeping brushwork and romantic style, Fery was hired as the rail's official artist in 1910 to work on the "See America First" campaign.

Over a period of three years, Fery crisscrossed the park in the summer months, sketching the landscape and wildlife. In the winter, he returned to St. Paul to paint in his studio. His canvases were hung in railroad stations, ticket offices, park hotels, and lodges, transforming the bare walls into veritable art galleries. In turn, more tourists were attracted to the region. More than the efforts of any other artist, Fery's work became synonymous with Glacier National Park due to the national recognition he gained through the mass distribution of his artwork.
