MAYOR PIKE'S MESSAGE

Here it is 2016 already! I know it's typically the time for goals and resolutions in our lives. This year I want to really make an effort to take greater advantage of the many outdoor opportunities in St. George and Washington County.

I've been told by fitness experts that walking is perhaps the best exercise we can do throughout our lifetime. It's something we can do now and keep doing into our old age, and if we walk far enough and frequently enough, it will certainly help us feel better and live longer! With forty miles of paved trails in St. George alone, plus the many other natural trails, there are so many safe and fun places to walk, run, hike, and ride.

Which brings me to cycling. St. George is making a real effort to focus more on active transportation. Our Active Transportation Committee is meeting regularly and bringing forward ideas to help us plan better in the future and make incremental improvements now! We've engaged a consultant to drill down in this area and give us ideas of what will work best in St. George in conjunction with the trails and streets we have. We also want to do more in the area of safety when it comes to pedestrians and cyclists in relation to cars. We can all work together to share the roads and get to where we're going safely! I rode my bike to work several times last May during bike to work week. I want to ride a lot more in 2016. It takes some extra time and planning to ride to work, but let's see what we can do at least once in a while!

We have so many hiking and mountain biking trails in our city and county! I haven't experienced enough of them and plan to do more this year. There are trails for all skill levels right in our backyards. Trail information is available from a number of sources, including sgcity.org. Take a hike or ride with a friend, your spouse, or your children! Many do this already and have a great time being active together.

Our nearby reservoirs are great for things like motor boating, waterskiing, and wake boarding/surfing. They're also great for swimming, kayaking, canoeing, and more.

Bottom line: so many people love to come visit our area because of all the activities that are available. It's why many of us live here. Let's take even greater advantage of what we have in 2016 and make it a happier, healthier year!

A FRESH LOOK AHEAD

By: Bette Arial, City Council

If you are like many living in St. George, you love this place where we don't take for granted the fact that the weather requires no snow removal, warm winter clothing isn't required, and we don't drive on icy roads. Great weather is one of the many attractive characteristics of our red rock paradise.

But, when I think of the beauty of this place, I am reminded that 'pretty' is what we see on the surface, but 'beauty' is what lies within the people who live here. First and foremost I value the people who live in St. George. I am inspired, taught and feel friendship for all I have met. Thanks for all who voted for me this past November and I offer to all, 'let's meet half way' to communicate, which is the beginning of understanding and friendship. All ideas, points of view, opinions and needs are valuable and will be given respect and consideration. It is a great responsibility to study, listen, review and then make sound decisions for the city. I take this charge seriously. The goal is to continually move forward to make our city incredible.

As the New Year arrives, making goals and plans command our thoughts. I personally want to be found doing what matters most for my life and for the City. With fresh eyes, let us look at the possibilities and potential around us. What areas need a change, a new focus or improvement? How can the city meet the needs of the most citizens? Are our long-range plans still valid or do they need a re-look? Will our sustained growth plans keep the city alive and viable? Can we keep our children and new-comers living here by providing jobs, work opportunities and careers? How do we handle numerous challenges?

Sometimes I think we get stuck in the activities of each new day and don't stop to be grateful for the positives around us. I will never take for granted a warm safe bed, food to eat three times a day, a car that starts, a home where my family feels safe, freedom to drive where I need to go, education that opens my mind to the world, a state, run by good women and men of diverse views, and constitution that guides our nation- the greatest on earth and amazing pioneers who settled here. We can still learn so much from their examples and stories.

We often have pictures in our minds of these early folks as cowboys with a six-shooter strapped to their legs, riding horseback, scratching out a living in isolated homesteads. Native Americans living in teepees and towns with rough, unpaved streets. These images are an idealized western picture from the nineteenth century and come from movies, novels and television programs. Actually, St. George, the Arizona Strip and surrounding communities still have some of the same kind of images and people who were hardy, brave, inventive, hard-working and filled with faith and conviction. They are the examples for many of the citizens of St. George and they have shown us that nothing is impossible. If we are united and work together, it is possible to build a high school, college, university, irrigation system, buildings that have survived like the Opera House, the Temple and Tabernacle. This shows what a community can do together. In modern times we are still using this same mentality by putting our shoulders to the wheel to build the Dixie Center, Avena Center, parade grounds and Town Square, restore the Electric Theater, renovate the Dixie Sunbowl, build a park for all-abilities children, provide a safe place for our homeless and provide recreational activities for thousands of our children and adults. We may not do as much manual work today or at least in the same way, but we do pull together to benefit the whole community in stunning ways.

We see the fruits of what our first citizens started and with enthusiasm, excitement and hearts of good-will, we can look to 2016 as a year we continue the task of protecting the natural beauty, developing economic possibility, honoring our cultural heritage and extending a welcoming spirit to all.

Happy New Year and may it be filled with happiness and success!

TRANSPORTATION A PRIORITY IN ST. GEORGE

Bluff & Sunset Intersection

The City of St. George has been planning transportation needs for the area since the 1970's. It wasn't until the '90s that formal transportation improvement plans (i.e. Capital Facilities Plans or Impact Fee Analysis Plans) were written to help direct planning and budgets for roadway projects. Formal transportation improvement plans have been utilized and updated since to continue the planning and budget efforts for needed roadways throughout the St. George area.

There have been many transportation related projects included in previous versions of the City's transportation improvement plans throughout the years. Some of the more significant projects that have been constructed since the year 2000 include:

- Dixie Drive Roadway, Re-Alignments, and Bridge
- River Road Widening, Extensions, and Bridge
- Tonaquint Drive Re-Alignment and Widening
- Black Ridge Drive
- Brigham Road
- St. George Boulevard
- Atkinville Interchange (aka Milepost 2 on I-15)
- Red Hills Parkway (aka Skyline Drive and Highland Drive)
- 200 East Extension and Re-Alignment (aka Skyline Drive)
- Riverside Drive Extension and Widening
- Valley View Drive Bridge
- Dixie Drive Interchange (aka Milepost 5 on I-15)
- Little Valley Road
- Indian Hills Drive
- Mall Drive Roadway and Bridge

Projects in the Works
There are several significant transportation projects under design and nearing commencement. These projects have been budgeted and scheduled for construction within the next couple of years. These include River Road Widening and Bridge Reconstruction at Fort Pierce Wash. The project includes widening to 5 lanes – 2 thru-lanes in each direction – from 2450 South to Brigham Road. This will complete the 5-lane corridor while providing needed pedestrian facilities (i.e. sidewalks) across the Fort Pierce Wash bridge and a traffic signal at Horsemen Park Drive near the bridge.

The project will provide a transportation crossing under I-15 between 1680 East and Mall Drive just north of the St. George Mall. This will allow an additional transportation option for drivers who typically drive through the interchanges on I-15 at St. George Boulevard and Green Springs in Washington City.

450 North Connection
This project will connect 450 North from 2450 East to 3050 East. Costs of the roadway construction will be split between the City of St. George and adjacent development. It is anticipated that once construction is completed, a traffic signal will be installed at the intersection of 3050 East and 450 North.

Bluff Street Improvements from St. George Boulevard to Sunset Blvd
This project will include roadway widening, re-alignment at Sunset Blvd, and intersection improvements including a free-right turn lane at St. George Blvd to travel northbound on Bluff Street. The funding for this project comes mostly from the Department of Transportation with participating right-of-way corridor preservation funding from the County. Due to the various right-of-way needs along the corridor, construction on the project is scheduled within the next couple years.

Active Transportation Plan
We are currently underway with an Active Transportation Plan that will analyze current and future connectivity between origins (residential neighborhoods) and destinations (businesses, shopping centers, recreational areas, etc.). The plan will provide information on deficient locations and recommendations on improvements that will make it easier and safer for active modes of transportation to utilize the City roadway and trail infrastructure. The plan will be completed this Spring.

Future Projects
Future and upcoming projects are based on need, development, and strategic planning. These projects are typically planned for timelines 4 to 5 years and beyond. Current transportation plans include (1) roadways that will need to be built to connect new development and existing roadways within the St. George area, (2) existing roadways and corridors that need increased traffic capacity to handle current and prolonged growth within the urbanized area, and (3) new roadways that will re-direct traffic flows around smaller areas within St. George that would otherwise become too congested with projected future traffic volumes related to not only growth in the City of St. George, but also growth in adjacent and neighboring cities. Some of these future transportation projects include:

- Plantations Drive – west part of St. George in Green Valley area
- 3000 East Extension – south of the Little Valley area connecting to River Road
- Commerce Drive – extension across the Fort Pierce Wash connecting to 3000 East
- River Road Corridor – widening and intersection improvements along the corridor from SG Blvd to 1450 South including bridge widening and additional left and right turn-lanes
- 700 South – restriping to increase travel lanes from Main to 700 East

Suntran Mass Transit
Bus service within the St. George area commenced in the early 2000's and is alive and well today. Ridership has seen a steady increase from those early days and has reached approximately 450,000 riders within the last year. During this past year, Suntran established a new route that includes a neighboring community. Route 6 was implemented and began in January 2015 which provides half its service to Ivins City connecting Tuacahn and Ivins residents to the St. George transit service routes at a transfer point in Sunset Corner. The other half of Route 6 serves the Bloomington Walmart area via Dixie Drive.

A transit design is underway to look at the existing route configuration, timing, and bus stop locations to determine if there is a more efficient route design that could be used to serve the area. Furthermore, the design will look at the future planning of the transit system for phasing new growth including prioritizing and needs. This will help Suntran ready itself for the future.

SGU Airport
The St. George Municipal Airport (SGU) opened in January 2011. Its name was recently changed to the St. George Regional Airport and provided approximately 60,000 enplanements (i.e. single passenger flights) in 2015. Flights in and out of the airport currently connect to Salt Lake City International Airport (SLC) and Denver International Airport (DEN). The City has high expectations to be able to provide additional flights and destinations in the near future.

The Airport also has a Capital Improvement Plan which is updated periodically and submitted to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) for approval. Future projects shown on the current Capital Improvement Plan include:

- Extend Taxiway B (west side of airport)
- Parking Lot Extension
- Pave the Vehicle Service Road (VSR)
- Runway Pavement Rehabilitation/Maintenance

UTILITY BILL PAY MADE EASY

By Aaron Olsen, City Treasurer

What if paying your utility bill could be as easy as replying to a text message, a simple click of the mouse or replying to an email? Good news! The City of St. George is implementing a more secure, convenient and user-friendly payment system for its customers. This new and improved interface provides many benefits to customers; enabling them to pay their utility bills electronically, via the web, email, text message, or by phone.

flexibility of paying where, how, and when they choose. Because of these changes, service to customers will be enhanced by a reduction in long lines at the utility office. In turn, employees will have more free time to work on a paperless initiative by developing new electronic customer service forms and applications.

Not only will this new technology save you time, but it will also save the city between $50,000 and $80,000 a year. Customers will not see an increase in their bill, but will see an increase in customer service and user experience. Those customers who choose to pay online will no longer have to pay a $1.25 fee when they pay with their credit cards.

The City of St. George is working diligently to implement the new technology, and we hope to see it launched in February 2016.

Keep an eye out for these exciting changes, as they will revolutionize the way the City provides its customers with quality service!

How will Paymentus improve my customer experience?

- Make payments anytime of the day or night.
- No more $1.25 credit card transaction fee... No fees!
- Check your balance and make payments 24/7 over the phone using our easy-to-use automated phone system.
- Use the Quick Pay option on our website to pay your bill quickly without having to register an account or create a password.
- Register an account for additional features – turn on eBilling, manage paperless options, set up auto-payments, save payment information, set payment reminders/notifications, and more.
- No pinching and zooming to pay your bill! The payment portal renders on any size screen, so you can make payments on whatever internet browsing device you prefer – mobile phone, tablet, laptop, or PC.
- Never forget to pay! Set payment reminders to be sent via text, email, or automated phone call.

Founded in 2004, Paymentus is an established leader in secure paperless billing and payment solutions. It operates under Chase Paymentus Merchant Tech software and is fully integrated with the software the City currently utilizes, but will provide real time data exchange and a less labor intensive system for City staff.

Ultimately, this new interface will save time, money, and allow customers the

BLUCAN LAUNCH SET FOR FEBRUARY

The final opt-out numbers for the BluCan Curbside Recycling have been counted, and Washington County Solid Waste (WCSW) is excited to announce 87 percent of households are participating in the program. In order for the program to be possible financially, more than 50 percent of the total eligible population of Washington County needed to participate.

"This is a very exciting success for the program," WCSW District Manager Neil Schwendiman said. "We didn't expect to have this many people interested in participating in BLUCan."

A total of 41,944 homes are participating out of 48,235 qualifying homes in all the participating cities in Washington County. St. George's participation rate is 85 percent and Washington came in at a solid 88 percent. Mayor Jon Pike said, "The low opt-out number is great news and will allow us to reduce the rate for BLUCan service from $4 to about $3.12 per resident in St. George." The smaller cities La Verkin, Leeds, Virgin, Rockville, Toquerville and Santa Clara ranged from 49 percent to 78 percent participation.

Springdale, Ivins and Hurricane are mandatory cities and eligible residences are required to participate.

Residents participating in the program should expect delivery of BluCan containers to their homes in January, 2016. The program is expected to begin residential service in February, 2016.

BluCan allows residents to deposit paper, plastic, cardboard and metal waste into their own BluCan, a can that will be similar to their current garbage can. BluCan will provide curbside pickup of recyclables every other week.

For information about BluCan, recycling guidelines and more, visit BluCan.org. For questions specific to St. George customers, please visit www.sgcity/blucan.org

BluCan Curbside Recycling is a partnership between select Washington County cities and Washington County Solid Waste. Since becoming a district in 1978, Washington County Solid Waste manages the solid waste for residents and commercial entities in Washington County. WCSW is dedicated to managing the waste in a manner that is environmentally sound, cost effective, socially responsible, and safe. With waste management paired recycling initiatives, WCSW hopes to protect and preserve the stunning land that helps contribute to residents' quality of life.

GEORGE STREETFEST RECEIVES NOD TO CONTINUE IN 2016

Southern Utah's new nightlife event George Streetfest on Main celebrates its first six months with approval to continue in 2016.

Debuting June 5, George Streetfest emerged as a nightlife event designed to celebrate the best of southern Utah, offering something for everyone. With a planning committee comprised of local artists, musicians, entertainers, college students, business leaders and media volunteers, George launched successfully and has quickly taken its place in the community as nightlife to look forward to.

From 6 to 10 p.m. every first Friday, George spans three city blocks at the heart of Historic Downtown St. George. On a concert stage erected in the middle of Main Street, the Main Street free concert features local and visiting bands. Also, on Main Street, the Little SoHo Street Market features local artists, crafters and merchants selling goods, George Jr. Village offers games and activities for youth, and the Robert J. Debry Food Truck Village hosts up to 12 food trucks.

At Historic Ancestor Square, the Jazz Garden venue caters to adults 21 and over and has filled a social niche in the community many felt was missing. To the background of jazz and acoustic from 6 to 10 p.m., favorite downtown restaurants dish up delectable tapas paired with wines and beers selected by St. George Wine Club and Zion Brewing Company.

"It is exciting to see this new energy coming to Historic Downtown," said Nicki Pace, Downtown Merchants Group President and Ancestor Square restaurateur. "A monthly event like this complements what the St. George City already offers, and brings us together with a consistent and fun downtown celebration every month."

In 2016, event organizers look to continue offering quality musicians and entertainment both on Main Stage and at the Jazz Garden. According to event designer Melynda Thorpe, "Event organizers are committed to providing a consistent event that stays fresh and fun from one month to the next."

George Streetfest on Main is presented by Historic Downtown Merchants Group and takes place from 6 to 10 p.m. on the first Friday of every month at Historic Downtown St. George.

For information about monthly performance lineups, or for vendor applications, visit georgestreetfest.com, or email george@georgestreetfest.com.

"George is cool - and you can party with him every month."

- Steve Kiggins, Spectrum Editor

"George Streetfest success reflects bigger picture of a new downtown St. George."

- George Scott, Independent

"GEORGE IS HERE, AND IT IS HERE IN A BIG WAY!"

- ST. GEORGE AREA TOURISM WEBSITE

"(George Streetfest) is quickly becoming the biggest and hottest party in Southern Utah."

- Hollie Reina, St. George News

"The collaboration and efforts of the city, downtown merchants, sponsors, vendors, artists, and the organizers to generate a nightlife inclusive of our evolving community has been extraordinary. And it's time. Residents and visitors alike should expect to find developing cultural opportunities in this beautiful place we call home."

ALL-ABILITIES PARK - FULL STEAM AHEAD

Construction and progress is well underway on the City's All-Abilities Park. Park Planning designers have included iconic theming of dinosaurs, a volcano, and a functioning train all based on feedback from the public during public meetings. The park will feature a large inclusive playground area with specialized equipment and a sound and sensory zone with a variety of musical instruments. This will provide opportunities for kids of all ages and abilities to play and learn together. The first phase of the park is expected to be completed in the spring of 2016.

The first stage of the project which included grading, utilities, parking lot, pedestrian train underpass, tunnel, and retaining walls was completed in 2015 by JP Excavating. The 2,700 foot train track that circumnavigates the park has also been installed. The new train with its three carriages (including capacity for several wheelchairs) arrived in the middle of August 2015 and is now sitting on the tracks ready to roll.

The waterfall and interactive water feature are currently under construction. Local sculptor/contractor Dreamweaver Specialties is installing the faux rock giving it a life-like appearance. Sunset Pools is donating a large portion of the material and labor for this unique and creative water feature. It will include a grotto like cave that can be accessed from two sides where children can go behind a large waterfall and venture out into a shallow wading area with a meandering stream to a grassy courtyard. This will be surrounded by lush landscaping and is completely accessible by wheelchair.

The hardscape portion of the project is under construction which includes concrete flatwork, raised planter/seat walls, train depot pad and loading platform, shade pavilion pad, and train track crossings. The depot and ticket booth recently arrived and installation of the building is currently underway. City Park Planning Staff have selected and begun ordering playground equipment for the project. Much of the play equipment for the park is unique and will provide opportunities to all children regardless of their abilities.

The volcano structural footings and walls are under construction and will be followed by the faux rock installation. The faux rock will include intricate detailed carvings of dinosaurs and realistic rock on all sides. The volcano will serve as a shade structure and gathering area and will have interpretive opportunities within. The volcano includes several sound and sensory elements such as a misting/fog system and an acoustic sound system that will replicate an active volcano. Within the volcano are a series of accessible ramps leading up to an elevated fort/play structure designed for inclusive play opportunities.

Park Maintenance crews have begun landscaping the new parking lot and perimeter landscape areas. City crews have been able to salvage several mature trees from proposed demolition sites and relocate them to the parking areas to provide instant shade and impact to the site. Many of the trees being planted have come from the City's tree nursery. The City's Park Planning and Park Maintenance staff have been coordinating efforts to keep the project on budget and within schedule.

We acknowledge and appreciate the efforts of all individuals and groups who have donated funds and other resources towards the development of the park. Fund raising efforts are still in full swing through the Leisure Services Department with the recently released "Hands That Built the Park" program. This program provides a range of opportunities for public and corporate groups to get involved with the creation of several murals to be constructed within the park while generating additional funds to help with the project. Additional opportunities still exist for donations towards naming rights on some of the key elements within the park. If you would like to "Get on Board" and make this park a reality, you can download the donation form at sgcity.org. More information on the All-Abilities Park can be found at sgcity.org/allabilities/ or by contacting the Leisure Services Department located at 220 North 200 East, St. George, UT 84770. ## ART BY ERIN HANSON

ERIN Hanson has developed a unique style of painting, known as Open Impressionism, her richly textured oils alive with vibrant color and motion. Using only a brush, Hanson uses as few strokes as possible to capture the spontaneity and natural beauty of the landscapes around her. Backpacking and rock climbing provide the inspiration for her work, giving her the opportunity to explore rarely seen terrains and stunning vistas.

Erin Hanson paints with free, wide strokes placed side by side without layering. She concentrates on the negative spaces in the composition, bringing the light to the foreground and giving a mosaic or stained glass quality to the work. Color choice becomes a decision made more from instinct than from visual identification. The interplay of thickly applied paint with smoother areas of the painting creates a rhythm and excitement within her work, inviting the eye to take a journey through the painting.

The purpose of Open Impressionism is to capture the fleeting experience of a wide, beautiful landscape by abstracting the panoramic landscape into a two-dimensional painting. The loose quality of the work allows the viewer's imagination to participate in the painting, making the work very personal to each observer.

Erin Hanson began exploring America's National Parks at a very young age. Growing up in Los Angeles, Erin Hanson's favorite experiences were escaping into the natural and un-touched beauty of the National Parks. In a family with three younger brothers, all Boy Scouts, and as a Girl Scout herself, she had many opportunities to explore the great outdoors. Hanson started painting in oils at the age of 6, and she has been painting ever since. As she developed her style, painting landscapes was the obvious choice of subject matter, since landscapes had always been the most awe-inspiring beauty she had ever seen. Her contemporary style of painting attempts to mirror the overwhelming majesty of our Parks.

"The National Parks have been a huge force in the development of Open Impressionism, the drama and beauty of the Parks inspiring an entirely new style of painting... Each painting is more of an emotional work than a photographic representation."

UNITING AMERICA: 100 YEARS ON COMMON GROUND

Cedar Breaks
by: Erin Hanson

Memories of Zion
by: Debra Teare

Canyon of the Possible
by: Lynn Berryhill

This year, 2016, is the Centennial of the National Park Service. All year, the St. George Art Museum will be celebrating, along with others including the Spectrum Newspaper, the Southwest Symphony on February 26th, the Zion Human History Museum and others.

Art was an instrumental aspect that helped convince congress in 1872 to make the unprecedented decision to set aside land for the people and for the future. The St. George Art Museum's location at the edge of the Colorado Plateau makes possible our many national parks and monuments that surround us and the Museum, an ideal place for art of the parks.

The juried exhibits will be enhanced by the submission of your national park stories. All will be collected for perusal and display along with the art. Participate with your stories or by entering the two remaining juried exhibits in America's Best Idea (Wallace Stegner) and surely the one thing we can all agree on is that the national parks and monuments are wonderful. Thank goodness these fabulous lands have been saved for all people for all time.

The Legacy Gallery will contain portions of our beautiful and growing collection of the art of our close parks and monuments. The first juried exhibit will be up in the Main Gallery and be those pieces of art that were chosen as the best among the entries. Visit the three fine exhibits on view beginning January 16th, along with our many events.

WE WANT YOUR NATIONAL PARK STORIES, THOUGHTS, RECOLLECTIONS, & REMEMBRANCES

In 2016, the St. George Art Museum will be celebrating the Centenary of the National Park System with exhibits throughout the year, three of which are juried. Our location at the edge of the Colorado Plateau surrounded by national parks and monuments makes us an idea place for a focus on the national park system 100th birthday. The juried art exhibits will be enhanced by YOUR submissions. All will be collected for perusal in our Adult Study Center and some will be chosen to display along with the art. Participate in America's Best Idea (Wallace Stegner), and in the big celebration of the amazing wonders that have been preserved for all people, for all time. More information on the juried exhibit is available on our website or at the Museum. The first exhibit is Pictured: Close to Home, Our Own Spectacular National Parks (January 16-May 28, 2016); Then it is Pictured: The West's Most Spectacular National Parks (June 11-August 13, 2016); and finally Pictured: The Nationals Most Spectacular National Parks (August 27-December 31, 2016). Submissions can be on the idea of the specifics of any national park or monument and will likely be displayed in the exhibit that best fits the story. The word limit is 275, so that we may fit it on a regular sheet of paper that will be easily readable by our visitors, if displayed on the Museum's walls. Submit at museum@sgcity.org beginning now and ending on August 15, 2016. Please include your full name, email, phone, and address. Thank you!
